FINDINGS

- Five product categories - Cameras & Camcorders, Cell Phones, Computers, TV & Video, and Music, Movies & Audio Books, accounted for 98% of the Quantity Sold decline.
- Nine product subcategories - Digital Cameras, Digital SLR Cameras, Printers, Scanners & Fax, Projectors & Screens, Movie DVD, Touch Screen Phones, Home & Office Phones, Smart Phones & PDAs, and Home Theater System, explained 86.7% of the decline.
- North America contributed 82% of the Quantity Sold decline.
- The United States accounted for 94% of the regional decline.
- The decline was geographically concentrated, suggesting recovery efforts should prioritize the North American market.
- Overall, the investigation identified that the revenue decline was primarily driven by lower sales volume concentrated within specific months, product segments, and geographic markets.
